Clergy Report from the Annual Meeting, 2019

In the mid to late aughts, the Chicago Bears football team was coached by a man named Lovie Smith. Smith's post-game press conferences, regardless of wins or losses, always seemed to have a very matter-of-fact, low-emotion evaluation of the game that had just taken place and of his team's performance. I remember watching these press conferences and picking up on a recurring phrase he used: "I saw some good things. I saw some things we could improve on."

Hardly the profound biblical or theological reference one might expect for a report from the clergy, I find Smith's assessment on par with my own self-evaluation at this moment in my tenure at Grace Church. These seven months have flown by, and in that time, in keeping with Lovie's words, I have seen us do some wonderful things together. We engaged in new worship opportunities with Evensong and Taizé, as well as resurrecting the Wednesday evening service with an Enriching Our Worship liturgy. We have a terrific Bible Study twice a month and are slowly but surely implementing a regular Christian Formation gathering. We have also increased our outreach, visiting shut-ins and increasing our activity with FACC and other area resource groups.

In the past seven months, I have seen some areas in which I need to improve upon as your priest, as well. Communication and organization are probably at the forefront. As I work to establish a rhythm, my focus tends to be all over the place, which makes scheduling extracurriculars with any consistency difficult. The website unfortunately took a backseat to getting myself settled here, but I hope to revisit that in the very near future. There are some other projects I would like to accomplish that have been on the docket for some time so that we can move on to other ventures that really feed us spiritually.

At “The Examination” in the liturgy for ordination to the priesthood, there is a substantial paragraph laying out all the specifics the ordinand will be responsible for as a priest. The truly important charge, however, comes with the final summation paragraph right before the bishop asks, “do you believe that you are truly called by God and his Church to this priesthood?” (i.e. Last chance to hit the ‘eject button’). That final charge states, “In all that you do, you are to nourish Christ’s people from the riches of his grace, and strengthen them to glorify God in this life and in the life to come.”

For me, this immediately calls to mind the exchange between Jesus and Simon Peter in the last chapter of John’s Gospel when Jesus asks him three times, “Do you love me?” Each time Peter assures Jesus that he does, to which Jesus then tells him to feed and tend his sheep. The nourishment of Christ’s people (spiritually, emotionally, liturgically) is something I take very seriously because, as my vows indicate, I believe I am truly called by God and his Church to do just that: To feed and tend Christ’s people. What I have benefitted from a life in Christ is more than I could ask or imagine, and how could I not want to help others experience that too?

That said, I realize that I have ten tons of enthusiasm backed by an ounce of knowledge. I cannot thank you all enough for extending to me the grace and support to learn and grow into this role as your priest. It has been a beautiful ride thus far, and your patience with me has made all the difference.

I am excited to step into a new year with you here at Grace Church and to worship the Lord with you in the beauty of holiness.

Yours in Christ,
Fr. Brian Prall, Priest-in-Charge

Notes from Grace's Greens:

The Byron Park District have a Winter Lecture Series starting on February 10 and running for five weeks. Lectures are free and start at 2:00pm, all are on Sunday afternoon.

The award winning Jarrett Nature Center building houses very interesting exhibits and dioramas explaining prairie ecosystems and animals. It has three lecture rooms and a large deck overlooking the prairie. The prairie has well kept trails for hiking.

What better way to spend a cold winter afternoon, than to attend a lecture followed by a brisk walk?

Check the schedule on the bulletin board outside the kitchen.
